1. PURPOSE

- 1.1 This Border and Boundary Security Policy ("the Policy") establishes the governing framework under which Southern Cross Strategic Holdings Pte Limited ("the Company") secures, monitors, controls and protects all borders, boundaries, perimeters and controlled access points falling within its contracted area of responsibility on the Papua LNG Project in the Independent State of Papua New Guinea.
- 1.2 The Policy is issued to give effect to the Company's duty of care to its personnel, its clients, host communities and landowners, and to ensure that security operations are conducted lawfully, proportionately and to a consistent professional standard across all sites and shifts.
- 1.3 Specifically, this Policy is intended to:
- deter, detect, delay and lawfully respond to unauthorised entry, trespass, smuggling, theft, sabotage and other illegal movement across controlled borders and boundaries;
 - safeguard the life, health and dignity of all persons present in or adjacent to the operational area, including intercepted persons;
 - protect client assets, infrastructure, cargo, information and the natural environment;
 - ensure full compliance with the laws of the Independent State of Papua New Guinea, the terms of the Company's security licence, contractual obligations, landowner agreements and applicable international standards;
 - define clearly the authority, responsibilities, limits and accountabilities of every person performing border security duties; and
 - provide the foundation from which detailed Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs), post orders and training curricula are developed.
- 1.4 This Policy states principles and mandatory requirements. It does not replace site-specific SOPs, post orders or lawful operational direction, all of which must be consistent with this Policy. Where any inconsistency arises, this Policy prevails.

2. SCOPE AND APPLICATION

2.1 Persons Covered

- 2.1.1 This Policy applies without exception to every person performing, supervising, supporting or overseeing border security functions on behalf of the Company, including:
- security officers, border security officers and controlled access point operators;
 - supervisors, shift commanders, team leaders and duty officers;
 - managers, superintendents and executive personnel with security accountability;
 - auxiliary and specialist teams, including canine (K9) units, unmanned aerial vehicle (UAV) operators, control room operators, and intelligence and analysis staff;
 - subcontractors, labour-hire personnel, casual employees and trainees; and
 - visitors, client representatives and external agency partners while present within a Company-controlled border area, to the extent of the conduct and access requirements set out in this Policy.

2.2 Geographic and Functional Coverage

2.2.1 This Policy covers all borders and boundaries under Company responsibility, including:

- land access points, gates, main entry points and vehicle control points;
- coastal, riverine and wharf crossings, including the Kikori River system and associated waterways;
- airstrips, helipads and associated airside boundaries;
- petroleum, mining and exploration lease boundaries and licence area perimeters;
- camps, laydown yards, fuel farms, pipeline corridors and right-of-way boundaries; and
- upstream production well pads, flowlines, and the gas conditioning plant serving the Elk-Antelope development;
- the onshore pipeline corridor, right-of-way, block valve and metering stations, and the pipeline shore-crossing and landfall;
- restricted zones, exclusion zones, temporary cordons and mobile checkpoints established under operational order.

2.3 Relationship to Other Documents

2.3.1 This Policy is to be read together with the Company's group governance instruments, including the Zero-Tolerance Conduct, Ethics and Prohibited Behaviour Policy, the Integrated Security Solutions Subsidiary Policy, and all SOPs issued under them. A list of related documents appears at Section 22.

2.4 Project Context and Operating Environment

2.4.1 The Company provides border and boundary security services within the operational footprint of the Papua LNG Project ("the Project"), an integrated liquefied natural gas development in Papua New Guinea. This Policy is issued in that operating context and must be read with an understanding of the Project's geography, stakeholders and development timeline.

2.4.2 The Project develops the Elk-Antelope gas fields in the Gulf of Papua. Broadly, it comprises upstream production wells and a gas conditioning plant in the Gulf Province foreland; an onshore and offshore pipeline of the order of three hundred and twenty (320) kilometres; and downstream liquefaction and export facilities at Caution Bay in Central Province, adjacent to the existing Papua New Guinea LNG facilities near Port Moresby. The Project is operated by TotalEnergies in joint venture with ExxonMobil, Santos and JX Nippon.

2.4.3 The Kikori Operational Area governed by this Policy lies within the upstream and onshore-pipeline segment of the Project in Gulf Province. Where the Company holds security responsibility for other segments of the Project footprint, the standards of this Policy apply equally, and are given effect through site-specific Standard Operating Procedures and post orders.

2.4.4 As at the effective date of this revision, the Project is in a pre-construction phase: front-end engineering and design is complete, the principal engineering, procurement and construction contract has been awarded, the State-convened Development Forum and landowner benefit-sharing process is under way, and a final investment decision is anticipated. The operational area is accordingly one of high community expectation and elevated stakeholder activity. This clause records the position at the time of issue only; the operative requirements of this Policy apply throughout every phase of the Project.

2.4.5 This phase carries a distinctive risk profile for which supervisors and officers must plan, including: heightened community expectation of employment, compensation, royalties, equity and infrastructure; disputes over landowner identification and beneficiary status; the potential for demonstration, petition, march or access blockade; opportunistic theft of, or interference with, survey, camp, logistics and early-works assets; increased movement of labour, contractors, plant and equipment; and the presence of persons seeking informal access, employment or advantage. The controls in this Policy—impartiality, de-escalation, minimum force, disciplined community engagement and complete reporting—are calibrated to this environment.

- 2.4.6 The Company's role throughout is confined to the lawful protection of persons, assets and access, conducted with restraint and in a manner that preserves community consent and the social licence on which the Project depends. Nothing in the Project's national importance, timeline or commercial pressure enlarges the limits of authority set out in Section 6 or qualifies the human-rights obligations set out in Section 12.

- Constitution of the Independent State of Papua New Guinea — in particular the guaranteed rights to liberty, freedom from inhuman treatment, and protection from unlawful search and entry.
 - Criminal Code Act 1974 — offences, defences, and the lawful limits of self-defence and defence of property.

 - the United Nations Code of Conduct for Law Enforcement Officials;
 - the International Code of Conduct for Private Security Service Providers (ICoC); and
 - the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights.
- 4.3 Where a Company procedure, client instruction or customary expectation conflicts with PNG law, PNG law prevails absolutely. Any officer who receives an instruction that appears unlawful must decline it and report the matter immediately under Section 19.

5. GUIDING PRINCIPLES

The following principles govern every decision, order and action taken under this Policy. They are not aspirational statements; they are binding standards of conduct against which performance and discipline are assessed.

Principle	Application
Legality	Every action must have a lawful basis. No officer may exceed the authority conferred by law, licence and contract.
Preservation of Life	The protection of human life takes precedence over the protection of property, assets, information and operational continuity in every circumstance without exception.
Proportionality and Minimum Force	Any intervention must be the least intrusive measure capable of achieving the lawful objective, and must cease the moment that objective is achieved.
Integrity	Zero tolerance for bribery, extortion, favouritism, collusion, intimidation or the abuse of position for personal or third-party benefit.
Impartiality	Officers remain neutral in all landowner, clan, tribal, political, religious and commercial disputes, and must not take, or appear to take, sides.

Vigilance and Professionalism	Duties are performed alert, sober, correctly equipped, correctly uniformed and in accordance with post orders at all times.
Confidentiality	Operational, client, community and personal information is protected and disclosed only on a lawful need-to-know basis.

6. AUTHORITY, JURISDICTION AND LIMITS OF POWER

CRITICAL PROVISION

The Company is a licensed private security provider. It is not a law-enforcement, customs, immigration, quarantine or border-control agency, and it holds no statutory border-control powers. This Section defines the outer limit of what any officer may lawfully do, and it may not be varied by any post order, client instruction or verbal direction.

6.1 Source and Extent of Authority

- 6.1.1 The Company's authority derives solely from: (a) its licence under the Security (Protection) Industry Act 2004; (b) the lawful occupation, tenure or contractual control of the land, water frontage or facility concerned; (c) the terms of its client contract; and (d) the general rights available at law to any citizen or occupier.
- 6.1.2 On that basis, officers may lawfully: control and record entry to and exit from Company- or client-controlled property; require identification and authorisation as a condition of entry; refuse, delay or withdraw entry; conduct consent-based screening of persons, bags, vehicles, vessels and cargo as a condition of entry; direct trespassers to leave; observe, record and report; and preserve the scene of an incident pending arrival of the authorities.

6.2 Express Limitations

6.2.1 Officers must NOT, in any circumstance:

- exercise, claim or imply any power of a police officer, customs officer, immigration officer or quarantine inspector;
- conduct any search, seizure or detention off Company- or client-controlled land except where expressly permitted by law;
- conduct a strip search, intimate search or any search of a person other than a consent-based external screening conducted by an officer of the same sex, in a manner preserving dignity, and in the presence of a witness;
- seize, retain, confiscate, sell, destroy or interfere with any property except where necessary to prevent an immediate offence or danger, in which case the item must be secured, logged, and surrendered to the RPNGC at the earliest opportunity;
- impede, question, delay or interfere with a member of the RPNGC, PNGDF, PNG Customs, ICA, NAQIA or the emergency services acting in the course of duty;
- hold any person beyond the minimum period reasonably necessary to hand them into the custody of the RPNGC;
- take, retain or publish photographs, video or personal information of any person other than for a legitimate, recorded security purpose; or
- carry, draw, present or use a firearm otherwise than in strict accordance with Section 10 of this Policy and the Firearms Act 1978.

6.3 Unlawful Orders

6.3.1 No officer is required to obey, and no officer may lawfully obey, an order that is unlawful. Compliance with an unlawful order is not a defence. An officer who declines an unlawful order and reports it in good faith is protected from any form of retaliation under Section 19.

7. GOVERNANCE AND RESPONSIBILITIES

7.1 Executive Management

7.1.1 Executive Management is accountable for:

- approving, resourcing and enforcing this Policy, and ensuring it is reviewed as required by Section 23;
- ensuring the Company and its personnel hold all licences, permits, firearms authorities and approvals required by PNG law;
- approving operational plans, force levels and rules of engagement for each border post;
- maintaining formal liaison with the RPNGC, PNGDF, PNG Customs, ICA, NAQIA, provincial authorities and incorporated land groups;
- ensuring that training, equipment, welfare, accommodation and logistics are adequate, funded and delivered; and
- commissioning the quarterly risk assessment and the annual independent assurance review required by Section 21.

7.2 Country Security Manager

7.2.1 The Country Security Manager owns this Policy and is responsible for:

- issuing, maintaining and version-controlling all SOPs and post orders made under it;
- conducting and documenting a formal border threat and risk assessment at least monthly, and immediately after any significant incident or change in the threat environment;
- reviewing every use-of-force report, detention record and Category 1 incident within the timelines at Annexure A;
- authorising the deployment of firearms, K9 assets and UAV assets; and
- reporting security performance, incidents and trends to Executive Management and the client.

7.3 Supervisors and Shift Commanders

7.3.1 Supervisors and Shift Commanders are responsible for:

- preparing and issuing rosters, deployment orders, patrol tasking and shift briefings;
- conducting a documented pre-shift briefing and post-shift debriefing for every shift;
- verifying that every officer on duty is fit, sober, correctly equipped, correctly uniformed and in date for all required certifications;
- enforcing SOPs and post orders, and physically visiting each post at least once per shift;
- accounting for all firearms, ammunition, radios, keys, seals and controlled equipment at handover;
- submitting daily and weekly reports within the timelines at Annexure D; and
- taking immediate action on any breach, misconduct, safety hazard or threat, and escalating without delay.

7.4 Border Security Officers

7.4.1 Every officer is responsible for:

- securing, observing and patrolling the assigned border sector in accordance with post orders;

- operating controlled access points, including verification, screening, documentation and recording;
- reporting immediately every suspicious person, movement, vehicle, vessel, drone, breach or damaged control measure;
- maintaining an accurate, contemporaneous, legible and unaltered pocket notebook and post log;
- safeguarding all issued equipment and returning it complete at end of shift;
- maintaining professional bearing, courtesy and impartiality toward all persons at all times; and
- reporting personally any injury, error, near miss or breach of this Policy, including their own.

7.5 Specialist Teams

7.5.1 K9 Units

- Deploy only where the handler and dog hold current joint certification for the intended discipline (patrol, explosives detection, narcotics detection or wildlife and produce detection).
- Maintain the health, welfare, feeding, veterinary care, kennelling and rest cycles of the K9 asset as a primary duty.
- Maintain physical control at all times; a dog is never deployed off-lead into a crowd, and never as a punitive measure.
- Record every deployment, indication, search and welfare check in the K9 log.

7.5.2 UAV / Drone Operators

- Operate only under current Civil Aviation Safety Authority PNG authorisation, within approved flight envelopes, and never over a community, gathering or private dwelling without documented approval.
- Maintain flight logs, battery logs, maintenance records and imagery-handling records.
- Handle captured imagery as controlled information under Section 18.

7.5.3 Security Operations Centre

- Maintain continuous radio watch, incident logging, alarm and CCTV monitoring, and the master personnel-on-post record.
- Initiate escalation and emergency notification in accordance with the Emergency Response Plan.
- Retain all logs, recordings and communications for the retention period set at Section 18.

8. BORDER SECURITY OPERATIONS

8.1 Operational Planning

- 8.1.1 Each border post and sector must be covered by a written Operational Plan approved by the Country Security Manager, addressing threat assessment, manning, hours of coverage, communications, escalation, medical and casualty evacuation, emergency rendezvous points, and interagency notification.
- 8.1.2 Deployment patterns, patrol timings and routes must be varied deliberately to avoid predictability. Fixed, repeating patrol schedules are prohibited.

8.2 Patrols

- 8.2.1 Patrols may be conducted on foot or by vehicle, motorcycle, boat or UAV according to terrain, threat and approved tasking. No patrol may deploy without: a nominated patrol commander; a communications check; a stated route and expected return time lodged with the SOC; and the minimum equipment scale at Annexure C.
- 8.2.2 Patrols must never deploy as a single officer in an area assessed as medium risk or above. Minimum patrol strength is two officers.
- 8.2.3 Every patrol is recorded in the patrol log or approved digital system, capturing timings, route, personnel, observations, actions taken and negative reports.
- 8.2.4 Patrols must observe and report: breaches of the boundary; cut, damaged or removed fencing; unauthorised or newly formed tracks; removed, defaced or missing signage; unattended packages; unauthorised structures, gardens or camps; unauthorised vessels or aircraft; and evidence of poaching, illegal logging, illegal mining or dumping.

8.3 Controlled Access Points and Checkpoints

- 8.3.1 At every CAP, officers must verify the identity, authorisation and legitimacy of all persons, vehicles, vessels and cargo seeking entry, including as applicable: photographic identity, site induction status, gate pass or work order, cargo manifest, movement or transport permit, and vehicle authorisation.
- 8.3.2 Entry and exit of every person, vehicle and consignment must be recorded in the access register, which is a controlled record.
- 8.3.3 Screening of persons, bags, vehicles and cargo is conducted as a lawful condition of entry with the consent of the person concerned. Where consent is refused, the appropriate response is refusal of entry — not compulsion. Refusal of entry must be recorded and reported.
- 8.3.4 Searches of a person must be conducted by an officer of the same sex, externally, in the presence of a witness, in a manner that preserves dignity and privacy, and never in a manner that exposes the person to public view.
- 8.3.5 Body-worn cameras must be worn and activated at controlled access points and during any search, refusal, detention or use of force, wherever such equipment is issued. Recordings are controlled records and may not be deleted, edited or shared other than in accordance with Section 18.
- 8.3.6 Where a person refuses to comply, becomes aggressive, or is reasonably suspected of an offence, the officer disengages, maintains observation from a safe distance, and escalates to the Supervisor and the SOC, who will notify the RPNGC. Officers do not pursue.

8.4 Surveillance, Observation and Intelligence

- 8.4.1 Observation posts are established at assessed high-risk approaches and are manned, logged and rotated in accordance with post orders.
- 8.4.2 Surveillance equipment, including UAVs, thermal and night-observation devices, GPS and radio, is used only for approved security purposes, only by trained and authorised personnel, and never for the surveillance of lawful community activity, political or union activity, or private life.
- 8.4.3 Intelligence is gathered lawfully, from open and consented sources, and is assessed for reliability before reporting. Rumour must be reported as rumour. Weekly intelligence summaries address smuggling indicators, community tension, landowner grievance, criminal activity, illegal crossing patterns and emerging risk.
- 8.4.4 The payment of informants, and the collection of information by deception, coercion or intrusion into private life, are prohibited.

8.5 Riverine and Maritime Operations

- 8.5.1 All waterborne patrols require a certified coxswain, serviceable vessel, approved lifejackets worn at all times, marine radio, navigation lights, fuel reserve calculation and a lodged float plan. Night waterborne movement requires specific Supervisor authorisation.
- 8.5.2 Officers must not board, stop or interfere with any vessel outside Company-controlled water frontage. Vessels of concern are observed, described, photographed where safe, and reported to the SOC for referral to the authorities.

8.6 Airstrip Security

- 8.6.1 Airside boundaries are treated as restricted zones. Officers must maintain runway and approach clearance from persons, livestock and obstructions prior to notified movements, control airside access strictly, and never enter a movement area without clearance from the aircraft operator or airstrip controller.

8.7 Night and Adverse Conditions

- 8.7.1 Night operations require increased manning, positive communications checks at intervals not exceeding thirty (30) minutes, and issued illumination and night-observation equipment. Operations may be suspended by the Supervisor where weather, flooding, visibility or ground conditions render them unsafe. No officer is penalised for a safety-based suspension.

9. INCIDENT MANAGEMENT AND ESCALATION

- 9.1 All incidents must be reported immediately by the fastest available means to the Supervisor and the SOC, and confirmed in writing on the approved incident report form within the timeline at Annexure A.
- 9.2 Reportable incident categories include, without limitation:
- unauthorised entry, trespass or breach of a controlled boundary;
 - smuggling or trafficking of narcotics, weapons, ammunition, wildlife, minerals, fuel, timber or restricted goods;
 - theft, sabotage, vandalism, arson or damage to assets or control measures;
 - tribal, clan or landowner confrontation, blockade, demonstration or threat;
 - assault on, threat to, or intimidation of any person, including Company personnel;
 - any use of force by an officer, and any discharge of a firearm, whether intentional, warning or accidental;
 - any detention, restraint or handover of a person;
 - environmental damage, spill, pollution or biosecurity breach;
 - road, marine, aviation or workplace accident, injury or fatality;
 - loss, theft or malfunction of a firearm, radio, vehicle, vessel or controlled item;
 - allegation of misconduct, corruption, bribery or human rights abuse; and
 - discovery of human remains, unexploded ordnance or a suspicious object.
- 9.3 Incidents are classified by severity in accordance with Annexure A. No officer may downgrade, delay, consolidate or omit an incident report. Falsifying, backdating or altering a report is a dismissible offence and may constitute a criminal offence.
- 9.4 The scene of any serious incident must be preserved, secured and left undisturbed pending the arrival of the RPNGC or an authorised investigator, so far as is consistent with the preservation of life and the rendering of first aid.
- 9.5 Media, social media and public comment on any incident is strictly prohibited. All enquiries are referred to Executive Management.

10. USE OF FORCE AND FIREARMS

GOVERNING RULE

Force is the exception, not the method. The Company's primary security posture is observation, deterrence, communication, de-escalation and reporting. Every use of force must be lawful, necessary, proportionate, minimal and accountable, and must cease immediately once the lawful objective is achieved or the threat has ended.

10.1 Lawful Basis

10.1.1 Force may only be used where it is lawful under the Criminal Code Act 1974 and reasonably necessary for one of the following purposes:

- self-defence, or the defence of another person, against an actual or imminently threatened unlawful attack;
- the prevention of a serious offence that is being, or is about to be, committed;
- the lawful ejection of a trespasser who has refused a clear direction to leave, using no more than reasonable force; or
- effecting or maintaining a lawful arrest under the Arrest Act 1977 pending immediate handover to the RPNGC.

10.1.2 Force must NEVER be used: as punishment, retaliation or discipline; to obtain information, an admission or a confession; against a person who is compliant, restrained or fleeing without posing a threat; against a person solely because they have refused entry, refused a search or made a complaint; or against a child, an elderly person, a pregnant woman or a person with an apparent disability, except in immediate defence of life and then to the minimum degree possible.

10.2 Force Continuum

10.2.1 Officers must apply the lowest level of the continuum capable of resolving the situation, and must disengage or de-escalate as soon as circumstances permit. Escalation through the levels sequentially is preferred but is not mandatory where an immediate lethal threat exists. The continuum is set out at Annexure B.

10.3 Firearms

10.3.1 Firearms are carried only by personnel who: hold a current PNG firearms licence and Company authorisation; have passed the Company firearms competency and legal-knowledge assessment within the preceding six (6) months; are specifically authorised in writing for that shift and post; and are not subject to any medical, disciplinary or fitness restriction.

10.3.2 Firearms and ammunition must be secured in an approved armoury, issued and returned against signature, physically counted at every handover, and reconciled daily. Any discrepancy is a Category 1 incident reportable immediately to Executive Management and the RPNGC.

10.3.3 Lethal force may be used only where it is immediately necessary to protect life against an imminent threat of death or grievous bodily harm, and where no lesser means is available. Firearms may never be used to protect property alone, to stop a fleeing person who poses no imminent threat to life, or as a means of intimidation.

10.3.4 Warning shots are prohibited. Pointing a firearm at a person is a use of force and is reportable as such.

10.3.5 Alcohol, illicit substances and impairing medication are absolutely incompatible with the carriage of a firearm. Random and for-cause testing applies.

10.4 Post-Incident Obligations

10.4.1 Immediately following any use of force, the officer and the Supervisor must:

- render or arrange first aid and medical treatment for any injured person, including the subject, at the earliest safe opportunity;
- notify the SOC, the Supervisor and the Country Security Manager without delay;
- notify the RPNGC where any injury, detention, firearm discharge or allegation of offence is involved;
- secure and preserve the scene, the weapon or equipment used, and any recording;
- complete a Use of Force Report before going off duty, and separately from any other officer involved;
- withdraw the officer concerned from armed duty pending review; and
- provide the officer with post-incident welfare support and access to counselling.

10.4.2 Every use-of-force report is reviewed by the Country Security Manager within twenty-four (24) hours and independently reviewed by Executive Management within seven (7) days. Findings are recorded in the Use of Force Register and feed the annual training review.

11. INTERCEPTION, DETENTION AND HANDOVER

- 11.1 The Company does not operate places of detention. Any restraint of liberty is limited to a lawful citizen's arrest under the Arrest Act 1977 and lasts only for the minimum period necessary to deliver the person into RPNGC custody.
- 11.2 Where a person is intercepted or detained, the officer must:
- state clearly who they are, that they are a private security officer, and the reason for the interception;
 - notify the SOC immediately, and request RPNGC attendance without delay;
 - use no more restraint than is necessary, and remove restraints as soon as the person is compliant;
 - never detain a person in a vehicle, container, store, cell or confined space;
 - provide water, shade or shelter, protection from the weather, access to a toilet, and medical attention if required;
 - record the time of interception, the reason, the persons present, all actions taken, and the time and identity of the receiving RPNGC member;
 - permit the person to be observed by a witness where practicable, and never question the person about the alleged offence; and
 - treat any child, and any person who appears to be under eighteen (18) years, with particular care, notify a Supervisor immediately, and seek the attendance of a guardian or community leader.
- 11.3 A detention exceeding one (1) hour without RPNGC attendance must be escalated immediately to Executive Management for a decision on release. Prolonged detention exposes the officer and the Company to criminal and civil liability.
- 11.4 Property may only be secured where necessary for safety or the preservation of evidence, must be inventoried in the presence of the person and a witness, and must be handed to the RPNGC with a signed receipt.

12. HUMAN RIGHTS

- 12.1 The Company commits to the Voluntary Principles on Security and Human Rights. Security is provided in a manner that respects the human rights and fundamental freedoms of all persons in and around the operational area.
- 12.2 The following are absolutely prohibited and constitute serious misconduct warranting summary dismissal and referral for prosecution:
- torture, or any cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment;
 - sexual harassment, sexual exploitation, sexual abuse, or the solicitation of sexual acts in exchange for entry, employment, favour or protection;
 - discrimination or harassment on the grounds of sex, ethnicity, clan, province, language, religion, disability or belief;
 - any conduct involving a child that is exploitative, abusive or inappropriate;
 - forced labour, trafficking in persons, or the retention of any person's identity documents;
 - arbitrary detention, threats, extortion or intimidation; and
 - the destruction of, or interference with, food gardens, dwellings, sacred sites or property, other than under lawful authority.
- 12.3 The Company conducts a documented human rights risk assessment of its border operations annually, and screens all armed personnel and public-security partners for prior involvement in human rights abuses so far as lawfully practicable.
- 12.4 Any officer who witnesses conduct of the kind described in clause 12.2, by any person including a member of a public security force, must report it under Section 19. Failure to report is itself a disciplinary offence.

13. LANDOWNER AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

- 13.1 Sustainable border security in the Kikori operational area depends on community consent and trust. Officers are, in practice, the most visible representatives of the Company and the client, and their conduct directly determines the security environment.
- 13.2 Officers must maintain courteous, respectful and peaceful relations with clans, landowners, incorporated land groups, ward councillors, church leaders and community members, and must recognise customary land interests and rights of passage.
- 13.3 No officer may, without prior written management approval: negotiate with a landowner or community group; make any promise, commitment or representation regarding employment, compensation, royalties, access, benefits or contracts; accept or distribute any payment, gift or benefit; or attend any community meeting in a representative capacity.
- 13.4 All community and landowner meetings, grievances, requests and undertakings must be documented on the approved engagement record and lodged with the Community Affairs function within twenty-four (24) hours.
- 13.5 In any tension, blockade, demonstration or dispute, the standing response is to de-escalate, communicate, maintain distance, protect life, notify the SOC and management, and await direction. Officers must not confront, threaten, disperse or arm themselves against a community gathering.
- 13.6 Officers must not participate in, comment upon, or take any side in landowner disputes, clan conflicts, compensation claims, elections or political matters, whether on or off duty.
- 13.7 Recruitment of officers to posts within their own clan or dispute area must be avoided where a conflict of interest is reasonably foreseeable.
- 13.8 Community sensitivity is at its most acute during the development, landowner-identification, benefit-sharing and investment-decision phases of the Project, when expectations of employment, compensation, royalties, equity and infrastructure are heightened and representation may be contested. During any such phase, officers must exercise particular restraint and situational awareness, and must:
- refer every enquiry concerning benefit-sharing, landowner identification, equity, royalties, compensation or the Development Forum to the Community Affairs function, and never comment upon, confirm, deny or speculate on such matters;
 - treat any gathering, march, petition or blockade connected with benefit expectations as a community-relations matter to be de-escalated, communicated and reported—never as a public-order matter to be suppressed;
 - report early indicators of rising expectation, disputed landowner representation, factional tension or dissatisfaction through the weekly intelligence summary; and
 - maintain strict neutrality between competing clans, incorporated land groups and claimant factions, including where beneficiary status or representation is disputed.
- 13.9 Officers must recognise that they are frequently the most visible representative of the Project on the ground, and that a single act of arrogance, favouritism, dishonesty or excessive force during a sensitive phase can damage community consent for the entire Project. Courtesy, patience and restraint are operational requirements, not optional courtesies.

14. ANTI-BRIBERY, ANTI-CORRUPTION AND CONFLICT OF INTEREST

- 14.1 The Company applies a zero-tolerance standard to bribery and corruption in all forms. The following are prohibited absolutely:
- soliciting, accepting, offering or paying any bribe, inducement, kickback, "facilitation payment" or unauthorised gift, in cash or in kind;
 - permitting or facilitating unauthorised entry, exit, movement of goods, or avoidance of screening, for any consideration or on any personal basis;
 - collusion with smugglers, traffickers, thieves, illegal miners, poachers or any criminal element;
 - the falsification, omission or destruction of any register, log, manifest, report or record;
 - the sale, loan, misuse or unauthorised disposal of Company or client property, fuel, equipment, uniform or identification; and
 - the disclosure of rosters, patrol patterns, manifests, cargo movements, camp populations or security arrangements to any unauthorised person.
- 14.2 Officers must declare in writing any actual, potential or perceived conflict of interest, including family, clan, landowner, business or financial connections to persons or entities interacting with the border operation.
- 14.3 Any attempted bribe or approach must be refused, and reported to the Supervisor and through the confidential reporting channel within twenty-four (24) hours. The officer who reports is protected; the officer who conceals is liable.
- 14.4 Substantiated corruption results in summary dismissal, forfeiture of entitlements as permitted by law, referral to the RPNGC, and permanent exclusion from Company employment.

15. TRAINING AND COMPETENCY

- 15.1 No person may be deployed to a border post until they have completed the mandatory induction training and been assessed as competent. Competency records are maintained by the Country Security Manager and audited quarterly.

- 15.2 Failure to maintain a required certification results in immediate suspension from the affected duty until re-certification is achieved. Armed duty is withdrawn automatically on lapse of firearms competency.
- 15.3 All training is recorded, dated, signed by trainer and trainee, and retained for the period specified at Section 18.

16. EQUIPMENT, UNIFORM AND ASSET CONTROL

- 16.1 The Company will issue, maintain and replace the equipment necessary for the safe and effective performance of duty. The minimum scale of issue is set out at Annexure C.
- 16.2 All equipment is issued against signature, inspected at each handover, and returned complete at end of shift or end of engagement. Loss, damage or malfunction is reported immediately.
- 16.3 Uniform and identification must be worn correctly and completely while on duty and must never be worn off duty, altered, lent, sold or used to imply police, military or government status. Company identification must be produced on reasonable request.
- 16.4 Controlled assets — firearms, ammunition, radios, keys, seals, body-worn cameras, night-observation devices, UAVs and vehicles — are subject to daily reconciliation, serial-number registers and monthly audit.
- 16.5 Personal weapons of any kind, unauthorised equipment, personal drones and personal recording devices are prohibited on post.
- 16.6 Vehicles and vessels require a pre-start inspection each shift, a current operator licence or certificate, and compliance with the Company journey management and speed policy. Defective assets are placed out of service immediately.

17. HEALTH, SAFETY, ENVIRONMENT AND BIOSECURITY

17.1 Health and Safety

- 17.1.1 Border security duties are performed subject to the Company HSE Management System. No task is so urgent that it may be performed unsafely, and every person holds the authority to stop unsafe work without fear of reprisal.
- 17.1.2 Specific controls apply to the following operational hazards: heat stress and dehydration; malaria and vector-borne disease; waterborne operations and drowning; flooding and river conditions; snake and crocodile hazard; fatigue and shift length; lone working; vehicle and marine movement; and civil unrest.
- 17.1.3 Maximum shift length, minimum rest periods between shifts, and mandatory rest days are governed by the Company fatigue management standard. Supervisors must not roster, and officers must not accept, duty in breach of that standard.
- 17.1.4 Every post must have access to a stocked first aid kit, potable water, shade or shelter, sanitary facilities, communications and a documented medical evacuation plan.

17.2 Environment

- 17.2.1 Officers must prevent and report pollution, spills, illegal dumping, illegal logging, illegal mining and unauthorised clearing observed within or adjacent to the boundary, and must comply with all site environmental controls, including waste segregation and no-burn requirements.

17.3 Biosecurity

- 17.3.1 Border and access-point personnel play a supporting role in national biosecurity. Officers must observe and report the movement of live animals, birds, plants, produce, soil, timber, seafood and untreated packaging, and must not permit such items through a CAP contrary to site rules or NAQIA requirements.
- 17.3.2 Officers do not exercise quarantine powers. Suspected biosecurity risk material is isolated where safe, not handled, and reported immediately to the SOC for referral to NAQIA.
- 17.3.3 Officers must comply with vehicle, vessel, footwear and equipment wash-down and inspection requirements where established.

18. INFORMATION MANAGEMENT, REPORTING AND RECORDS

- 18.1 Records made under this Policy are Company controlled records and may be relied upon in disciplinary, civil, criminal and regulatory proceedings. Every entry must be accurate, contemporaneous, complete, legible and made by the person with direct knowledge.
- 18.2 The mandatory reporting schedule is set out at Annexure D. A "nil" return is still a return; failure to submit is a disciplinary matter.
- 18.3 No record may be altered, erased or removed. Corrections are made by a single ruled line, the correction, and the initials, time and date of the person making it.
- 18.4 All records, logs, registers, imagery, body-worn camera footage, radio recordings and reports are stored securely, backed up, access-controlled, and retained for a minimum of seven (7) years, or longer where required by law, contract or ongoing proceedings.
- 18.5 Personal information is collected only for a legitimate security purpose, used only for that purpose, and disclosed only to authorised persons, the client where contractually required, and lawful authorities on proper request. Disclosure to any other party requires Executive Management approval.
- 18.6 Operational information — including rosters, patrol patterns, manifests, camp populations, incident details and imagery — must not be transmitted, discussed or published on personal devices, personal email or social media.

19. GRIEVANCE, COMPLAINTS AND WHISTLEBLOWER PROTECTION

- 19.1 The Company maintains a confidential reporting channel available to employees, contractors, landowners and community members for reporting misconduct, corruption, human rights concerns, unsafe practice and breaches of this Policy.
- 19.2 Community and landowner complaints regarding the conduct of security personnel must be received courteously, recorded on the approved grievance form, acknowledged, and referred to Community Affairs and the Country Security Manager within twenty-four (24) hours. Complaints must never be discouraged, dismissed, resolved informally by the officer complained of, or met with any adverse response.
- 19.3 Every complaint is registered, triaged, investigated proportionately, and closed out with a documented outcome and, where appropriate, feedback to the complainant.
- 19.4 Any person who reports a concern in good faith is protected from dismissal, demotion, transfer, exclusion, harassment or any other detriment. Retaliation against a reporter is itself serious misconduct.
- 19.5 Anonymous reports are accepted and investigated to the extent the information permits.

20. INTERAGENCY COOPERATION AND LIAISON

- 20.1 The Company cooperates fully and in good faith with the RPNGC, PNGDF, PNG Customs, ICA, NAQIA, provincial and local-level government, and the emergency services.
- 20.2 Liaison is conducted at the appropriate level: Executive Management maintains formal relationships and any memoranda of understanding; the Country Security Manager maintains operational liaison; officers cooperate at the tactical level and provide reasonable assistance on request.
- 20.3 Where public security forces are deployed to or through the operational area, the Company will: request that deployment be consistent with the VPSHR; provide accurate briefing and factual information; record the identity of the commander, the strength and the purpose of deployment; and report any observed excessive use of force or human rights abuse to management for escalation.
- 20.4 The Company does not direct, task, arm, fund or reward public security forces. Any support-in-kind, transport, accommodation or ration provided must be pre-approved by Executive Management, documented and consistent with anti-corruption obligations.

21. MONITORING, AUDIT AND PERFORMANCE ASSURANCE

21.1 Compliance with this Policy is verified through: unannounced post inspections by Supervisors; monthly compliance checks by the Country Security Manager; quarterly internal audit; and an annual independent assurance review reported to Executive Management.

21.2 The following indicators are monitored and reported monthly:

Indicator	Target
Boundary breaches detected versus reported after the event	Increasing proportion detected in real time
Incident reports submitted within the required timeline	100%
Use-of-force events per 1,000 access-point transactions	Downward trend
Use-of-force reports reviewed within 24 hours	100%
Firearms and controlled-asset reconciliation discrepancies	Zero
Personnel current on all mandatory certifications	100%
Community grievances acknowledged within 24 hours	100%
Grievances closed out within 30 days	≥ 90%
Substantiated corruption or human rights allegations	Zero
Post inspections completed against plan	≥ 95%

21.3 Audit findings are assigned an owner and a due date, tracked to closure, and reported to Executive Management until closed.

22. COMPLIANCE, DISCIPLINE AND CONSEQUENCES

- 22.1 Compliance with this Policy is a condition of employment and of site access. Breaches are managed under the Company Zero-Tolerance Conduct, Ethics and Prohibited Behaviour Policy and the associated Case Management SOP, applying the principles of natural justice, a fair hearing, and proportionate outcome.
- 22.2 Depending on the gravity of the breach, outcomes may include: counselling; formal written warning; withdrawal of armed, K9 or UAV authorisation; removal from border operations; demotion; suspension with or without pay as permitted by law; summary dismissal; referral to the RPNGC for criminal prosecution; recovery of loss as permitted by law; and permanent exclusion from Company and client sites.
- 22.3 The following are deemed serious misconduct justifying summary dismissal: unlawful or excessive use of force; unauthorised discharge of a firearm; loss of a firearm through negligence; bribery, corruption or collusion; falsification of records; sexual harassment, exploitation or abuse; any offence involving a child; being unfit for duty through alcohol or drugs; abandonment of post; and concealment of a reportable incident.
- 22.4 Nothing in this Policy limits the right of any person to pursue remedies available at law, or the obligation of the Company to report criminal conduct to the authorities.
